"Each individual has personal goals and differing abilities. I identify areas for greatest improvement within each student and assess the best approach for developing techniques that compliment their needs. My objective is to help golfers at any level, fundamentally improve their swing; and their game."

Growing up in the San Francisco Bay Area, I learned to play golf at the age of 10. Just a few years later I began working in the golf industry, played golf on my high school team, and then at California State University, Chico. Although I've tried some other career paths, my love for the game of golf has grounded me here at Torrey Pines as an instructor for the past ten years. I welcome anyone who wants to optimize their golf game at the best course in San Diego.
