In a day and age where everyone wants to hit the long ball, my philosophy puts an emphasis on the scoring clubs. I believe the quickest way to better scores is through excellent wedge play and putting.

We will work from the green to the tee with the putter first and wedges next. At the end of the lesson series you should feel comfortable with all shots around the green. This will result in hitting it closer and being able to make more putts.

The full swing approach is "centered" around an athletic set up and balance. Our other areas of focus will be the club's path and face angle. Through these laws and principles, you will gain the knowledge and ability to produce a repeatable golf swing.
